3.1 LEARNING OUTCOMES
- Choose appropriate field investigation and soil characterization tests.
- Identify different types of geotechnical works (foundations, earth retaining structures, slopes and tunnels).
- Know the different construction methods for geotechnical works (deep foundations, flexible earth retaining structures, slopes and tunnels) and be able to choose the most appropriate one for each case.
- Design and apply the calculation methods to geotechnical works (deep foundations, flexible earth retaining structures, slopes and tunnels).

4. OBJECTIVES

- Know different typologies of geotechnical works.
- Know different construction methods for geotechnical works.
- Understand design and calculation methods for geotechnical works.
- Understand the need of an appropriate geotechnical investigation for a project and know the different survey methods.

Observations

Regarding those evaluation activities that the students can resit, the following general criteria were adopted at the regular meeting of the Civil Engineering School Board held on June 10, 2010:

- A student can only resit an evaluation activity that has not passed (i.e. a grading lower than 5 out of 10).
- The evaluation activity in the resitting period will follow the same procedure and will have the same guidelines as in the ordinary period.

Note: According to Spanish regulations (RD 1125/2003) about the European credit system and the grading system for University degrees, each course will be graded using a linear scale between 0 and 10 with a precision of a decimal. According to that grading, a qualitative rating may be added:

- 0.0-4.9: Suspenso (SS). Fail
- 5.0-6.9: Aprobado (AP). Satisfactory
- 7.0-8.9: Notable (NT). Good
- 9.0-10: Sobresaliente (SB). Excellent
- 9.0-10: Matrícula de Honor (MH). Outstanding (with honours)

Observations for part-time students

Part time students may ask for a different evaluation procedure that consists of a final written exam that covers the full course (100% of the grade) and will be held in the official period for final exams.
