3.1 LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Be able to solve problems related with general physics laws, and apply this ability to:

- write technical reports
- develop a physical model of a process
- design and perform experiments
- identify the key points in a physical process, and perform graphical, numerical, analytical and experimental analysis
- check results according to the accuracy of the experimental set up

4. OBJECTIVES

Acquire basic Physics knowledge Explain usual phenomena by using simple models Use experimental and mathematical tools Analyze diverse physical phenomena Perform experiments acquire data, analyze results and derive conclusions Write precisely technical reports Solve qualitatively and quantitatively related problems
