Inclusion and accesibility	Educational support needs	The University of Cantabria offers students with educational support needs the possibility of requesting non-significant access and curricular adaptations, as well as other reasonable adjustments.
	Integreation needs	Integration of exchange students. The University of Cantabria organises a welcome programme before classes start in order to provide the student with a first contact with the university, the city of Santander and the Spanish culture in general.
	Needs for technical resources to improve accessibility and autonomy.	Support is offered to students and staff with special needs or disability. The University of Cantabria has a set of technical resources available to the entire University Community with the aim of ensuring that people with disabilities have equal access to the services offered by the University.
	Psychological support needs	Support is offered to students and staff with special needs or disability. This service is aimed at UC undergraduate and postgraduate students. Depending on the situation of each student, a specific, personalised, confidential and free psycho-pedagogical support session will be assessed.
		Support is offered to students and staff with special needs or disability. The International Relations Office should be contacted in the first place. exchange.students@unican.es, +34942201018
